

Phoenix Celebrates National Dance Day

Written by Melissa Larsen

Monday, 22 July 2013 13:27 - Last Updated Monday, 22 July 2013 13:41

In honor of National Dance Day on July 27, instructors from the new Raw Roots Professional Performance Center will be teaching beginner and advanced routines from the hit TV show, "So You Think You Can Dance" (SYTYCD), to help celebrate the center's Grand Opening. (Several local dance talents have appeared on the reality competition.) During the free event, each SYTYCD routine will be videotaped and submitted to the TV for a chance to be featured on it. Attendees may also win prizes during the Raw Roots' "Triple Threat" contest, featuring choreography, charades and pitch match. There will also be a concert held by the local band, Medicine Tent. www.rawrootscenter.com.