

Seeking AZADI Angels Awards Nominees

Written by Melissa Larsen

Wednesday, 15 January 2014 08:28 - Last Updated Wednesday, 15 January 2014 08:38

Scottsdale-based AZADI Fine Rugs is inviting nominations for its AZADI Angels Awards. This program, created by owner David Neishabori, recognizes "angels" within the community. "As we enter the New Year we want to acknowledge these unsung angels," says Neishabori. "We all benefit because of their devotion to the community around them. We want to honor and give back to those who have given so much."

Three "angels" will be honored and $1,000 will be donated in their name to the charity of their choice at an awards reception in early March. Anyone can be an "angel"; the one criterion is that it is someone who gives of themselves to the community.

To nominate someone, simply fill out the one-page application and provide a one-page letter describing why you think the nominee should be recognized as an AZADI Angel. All nominations must be received or postmarked by Friday, Jan. 31. Applications can also be picked up or dropped off at AZADI Fine Rug's AZADI location in Scottsdale in the Seville Shopping Center or found at www.azadiangels.com.