You can thank our amazing year-round weather and abundance of golf courses: The U.S. Census Bureau named the Greater Phoenix area as the number one fastest growing place to retire in the United States. Not surprisingly, Arizona has top-notch retirement communities to support the growing number of retired residents. Robson Resort Communities, a resort community that has locations throughout the state for active adults, just received top honors in the 2014 Eliant Homebuyers' Choice Awards. The award honors homebuilders who delivered the best customer experience based on the results of a survey administered to more than 76,500 recent homeowners. Congrats, Robson Resort Communities!
