Tomorrow, at 4 p.m., Governor Brewer and JohnJay & Rich will dedicate the digital Children's Heart Gallery at a special event hosted by Scottsdale Fashion Square. Valley leaders, members of the ArizonaSERVES Task Force, Arizona1.27, and the Division of Child Safety and Family Services will be among the attendees, which is open to the public and takes place at the food court.

The Children's Heart Gallery features Arizona's Children who are in need of a forever family. It is a mobile digital photographic exhibit that was created in effort to provide the community a visual opportunity to help find these most vulnerable children a forever home. The JohnJay and Rich Care for Kids Foundation sponsored the design and construction of the Children's Heart Gallery. It will be available for use at indoor family-friendly events and locations like shopping centers, airports, libraries, churches, stadiums and entertainment venues.

The Children's Heart Gallery will be hosted for public viewing at Scottsdale Fashion Square from May 9 through May 31 in the Barneys New York Wing Rotunda in honor of May being National Foster Care Awareness Month.
