

AZ Foothills Fan Night with Christmas at the Princess

Written by Karah Van Kammen

Tuesday, 02 December 2014 15:30 - Last Updated Wednesday, 03 December 2014 11:24

Looking for some festive family fun this weekend? Kick off the holiday season at the Fairmont Scottsdale Princess this Sunday December 7 for AZ Foothills Fan Night. Event-goers will receive 50 percent off admission and parking by mentioning "AZ Foothills" at gate. Admission and parking price is normally $30 but AZ Foothills followers will have access for only $15 on AZ Foothills Fan Night.

The Scottsdale resort's winter wonderland features a 45-foot musical Christmas tree with 67,000 LED lights that twinkle and dance to 12 holiday songs along with more than 2 million Lagoon Lights that visitors can stroll on foot or ride the Princess Express Train through. Additional activities include the Desert Ice Skating Rink made with real ice and magical snowfalls (click here for exclusive AZ Foothills discount on a skate session), the all-new Christmas Carousel, and the Nativity Garden which features an 88-foot narration of the story of Christmas. Guests can enjoy hot cocoa, cocktails and treats available for purchase at Kringle's Korner.

The resort will also be a drop-off location for Toys for Tots through Dec. 20. Local residents can pull right up to the Toys for Tots box at the front drive/porte-cochere, where a bellman is happy to assist with donations. For more information on Christmas at the Princess and a full line up of the seasonal offerings click here.