To welcome in the month of Valentine's Day, Mark Pavlisin, Advisor for Keen.com, gives your love forecast by element.

Sun signs with element of Fire (Aries, Leo, Sagittarius) are generally favorably influenced this month.

- Sagittarians and Leos are likely to have best love-meeting opportunities and existing relationship emotional bonding transformed through experimentation of an original, easy-going, friendly communication of feelings. Events and feelings focus on love candidates, romance, intimacy, adventure, the playful creative inner child, entertainment, and socializing (for Fire signs born the 10th-20th of the month; February emphasizes harmonious meeting opportunities likely for all Sagittarians through November 2019).
- Aries should use caution with impulsive activity that could bring regret in the long term (especially for those Aries born: 10th to 20th). After meeting someone, with any couple's date of birth, Divinus's unique relationship compatibility method helps very accurately determine if there is lifetime potential for sustainable happiness:

Sun signs with element of Earth (Taurus, Virgo, Capricorn) are generally very positively influenced in February.

- Capricorns are highly likely to have significant love opportunities, relationship events and feelings focused on love, romantic relationships, intimacy, touch, and love values. It's important to note that love-meeting experiences will deal with relationship values and individual roles when it comes to arts and entertainment socializing (This is best for Earth signs born: 1st to 20th of the month). Intense and powerful love connections for late Capricorn births could some experience some friction with authoritarian or overcontrolling type personalities. The focus should be on responsible relationship transcendence through wise action and patient communication. Events and feelings may transform relationships by accessing mysterious, hidden, and collective unconscious themes, especially for those born: 20th to 30th.

Sun signs with element of Air (Gemini, Libra, Aquarius) are generally favorably influenced for new meetings or reconnections for romantic and spiritual friendship.

- This impacts Air signs born the 1st to 20th of the month, since February emphasizes harmonious meeting opportunities for all Geminis through November 2019. Early in the month, communications are highlighted. Connections between individuals can be strengthened through reasoned comprehension and clear perception.
- Librans may confront challenging issue-clearing with new or past love connections to resolve competing power interests, as well as questioning social identity roles. The love relationship goal is to balance individual true identities' self-expression. This is especially significant for Librans born: 1st to 10th.

Sun signs with element of Water (Cancer, Scorpio, Pisces) are nicely influenced around the second half of the month. This is especially true for Water signs born from the 20th to 30th of the month.

- For love path-finding clues, observing/interpreting dreams and daytime synchronicities (i.e. repeating environmental symbols to be further explained, visit Divinus' Advisor Blog: <https://www.keen.com/CommunityServer/UserBlogs/Divinus/default.aspx>) as transcendent communications within and through others may bring great insights into love opportunities to inspire relationship character-growth and emphasize individual personality traits that include purity, humility, curiosity, cleverness, and versatility, especially for those born around the 1st to 10th.
- Enlightened connections between individuals can be expressed through sharing dreams, alongside mutual, subtle esoteric energy exchange awareness, and identifying mythical archetype associations. Emotional relationship bonding through issue healing is a key theme for those born from the 10th to 20th of the month.
