

Haunted Houses in the Valley

Written by Ashley Loose

Monday, 10 October 2011 21:17 - Last Updated Monday, 10 October 2011 21:25

It's time to break out the Halloween candy, grab the pumpkin carving kits, and visit some of the creepiest places in the Valley before October is gone until next year! Here is a list of haunted houses and attractions sure to scare you silly.

The Nest Haunted House

This nationally renowned haunted house is back and offering even more than it has in the past! Winning titles like "America's Spookiest Haunted Attraction" from Good Morning America, and "America's Best Haunt" for the fifth year in a row, it's definitely a crowd pleaser! According to their website, $250,000 of more special effects and products have been added to make this the scariest yet. The Nest is a combination of clowns, graveyards, open roadways, actors, and custom 3D effects. The Nest is located in Chandler. For more information and tickets, visit their website. <http://www.Frightened.com/source/index.html#/index>

The 13th Floor Haunted House

The 13th Floor has been brought to Phoenix this year, built and designed with world-class designers and effects. For $25 admission, experience an overload of terror in The 13th Floor as well as Zombieland, a new addition. You will be sure to be scared in this 60,000 square-foot house of horror. The 13th Floor is located just off of Bell Road and the Black Canyon Freeway. Visit their website for tickets and more information. <http://13thflooraz.com/>

Field of Screams Haunted Corn Field

Be careful not to get too lost in this haunted corn maze in Glendale. Advertised as being grown over an old cemetery, who knows what could lurk behind the husks? The Glendale haunt is open Fridays and Saturdays, with a special discount on Halloween night. Their website also offers a $2 off coupon. Visit the website for pricing, scheduling, and more information. <http://www.azfieldofscreams.com/>

Ahwatukee Haunted House and Hayride

Made specially for Halloween, Ahwatukee offers a special event for all ages. On October 28, 29, and 30, make your way up to the Ahwatukee Community Swim and Tennis Center for a fun evening of festivities. A haunted house and hayride are just the highlights of the event- there is more to enjoy! A psychic and palm reader, delicious caramel apples and apple cider, delicious candy and treats, Halloween souvenirs, and a pumpkin patch are great for any age! http://www.ahwatukeehoa.com/picture/2011_halloween_flyer.pdf

For a complete list of haunted attractions, visit http://www.hauntedhouse.com/search/Haunted_Attraction_Directory/_USA_,040All_50_States,041/Arizona/. Be sure to note locations and scheduling, as these attractions tend to frequently change year to year.