With the weather warming up, now is the perfect time to grab a popcorn and a Coke and enjoy the air-conditioning at your local theater. Here are the must-see movies for spring 2012.

March 9

“Friends with Kids”

Join “Bridesmaids” stars Kristen Wiig, Jon Hamm and Maya Rudolph and costars Adam Scott and Jennifer Westfeldt for this spring’s daring comedy, “Friends with Kids.” When the last two singles in a group of married couples hears how everything changes when you have kids they decide there must be a better way. Their solution: have a kid together while dating other people.

“John Carter”

Former military captain John Carter is transported to Mars and thrown into a war between the planet’s inhabitants: Tars Tarkas and Princess Dejah Thoris. When he realizes Barsoom’s existence rests in his hands, Carter uncovers his humanity and helps save the planet. “John Carter” is available in 3D at select theaters.

“A Thousand Words”

Eddie Murphy’s character, Jack, is an agent who uses his smooth fast-talking to get the job done, but his best asset also gets him into the most trouble. When Jack visits Dr. Sinja he learns a thing or two about karma. Every time Jack speaks Dr. Sinja’s magical Bodhi tree loses a leaf. After one thousand words, Jack will die.

"21 Jump Street"

Schmidt and Jenko, Channing Tatum and Jonah Hill, join the police force as part of the Jump Street unit and go undercover in a local high school to uncover a drug ring. When the two unlikely cops trade in their guns and badges for protractors and books they realize high school is different than when they left it a few years prior. Now Schmidt and Jenko are faced with a dangerous drug ring and the anxiety of being a teenager again.

March 23

"The Hunger Games"

Based on the series by Suzanne Collins, "The Hunger Games" is set in the near-future United States, now called Panem after the U.S. collapsed from drought, fire, famine, and war. Panem is divided into the Capitol and 12 districts. The Hunger Games feature 24 participants who are forced to eliminate their competitors to survive. Sixteen year-old Katniss' younger sister, Prim, is selected to participate, but Katniss takes her place with male, Peeta, to compete against participants who have trained for this their whole lives.

"October Baby"

Newborn star, Hannah, steps onto the stage for her college theatrical debut, but as the curtain rises she collapses. Medical tests point to Hannah's difficult birth, but this is nothing compared to discovering she was adopted after a failed attempt at abortion. Hannah embarks on a journey with her oldest friend, Jason, to discover her past and her future.
