Get your best black tie attire and mask ready because the masquerade event of the year is waltzing back to the Fairmont Scottsdale Princess Resort on Saturday, October 10th, 2015. MASK is pleased to present the 8th annual MASKer Aide Ball "Carnivale" fundraiser and celebration of eight years successfully engaging, educating, and empowering families with the tools and resources they need to improve the lives of their children. This 2015 "Carnivale" themed ball promises to be a magical evening of entertainment and exquisite culinary experiences.

Guests will enjoy the "groove that makes you move" by Valley favorite, The Impact Band while noshing on gourmet dishes from Fairmont Scottsdale Princess Executive Chef David Morris. "Delivering a high quality banquet experience has been an obsession since joining the Fairmont Scottsdale Princess in 2012." says Chef Morris, "I am always looking for ways to create an intimate restaurant style dining experience in a banquet environment. We look forward to creating an evening to remember at the MASKer Aide Ball "Carnivale", with flavors from around the world." John Hook of Fox 10 News and Gina Salazar-Hook of CBS 5 News, a united team in parenting, return as the Emcee Team for the evening.

As part of the evening's festivities, MASK will honor moms, dads and organizations that exemplify the spirit and mission of MASK. "Our 2015 award recipients are so deserving," said MASK Founder and Publisher Kimberly Cabral. "With their support, and the support of many others, MASK can continue to engage, educate, and empower thousands of families through our magazine, and our awareness and outreach programs."
