

Where is President Trump Staying Tonight in the Valley?

Written by Editorial

Tuesday, 22 August 2017 08:42 -

Unless you've been living under a rock, you know that President Trump will be in Phoenix today and, according to multiple sources, he will be checking in at Omni Scottsdale Resort & Spa at Montelucia. And he isn't the first president to do so either, as President Obama stayed at the Scottsdale resort during his term in 2009.

Though we can only guess that President Trump will be staying one of the resort's luxury presidential suites, let's see what he might have in store for him. The 2,800-sq.-ft. Camelback Villa Presidential Suite is a two-bedroom, two-and-a-half bath villa with a patio that is large enough to fit 300. It also is home to spacious living areas, a large dining room, a private gym and, of course, prime views of Camelback Mountain.

The Old World-inspired Andalusian Presidential Suite also clocks in at 2,800 square feet and even has a pool and spa for guests to enjoy, alongside outdoor seating and patio area. Inside, guests take in a grand marble entryway, two palatial bedrooms, two and a half full bathrooms and a private office.

To book your own fit-for-a-president getaway at Omni Scottsdale Resort & Spa at Montelucia, click here.