

Galentine's Day Celebrations

Written by Lauren Grifol

Wednesday, 07 February 2018 09:34 - Last Updated Wednesday, 07 February 2018 10:06

Galentine's Day Celebrations

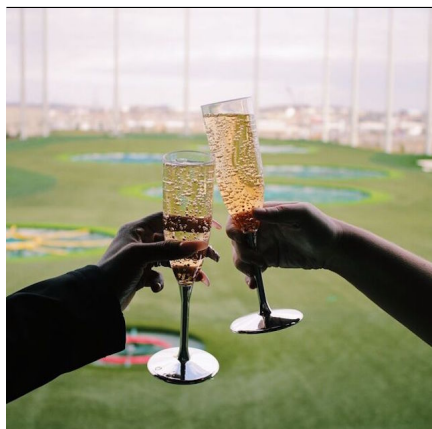

As some individuals are counting down the days for the upcoming mushy, gushy holiday, others are feeling like their relationship status, or lack thereof, is being plastered on their forehead. So for all the "single," "it's complicated," "exclusive but not dating," and "exclusively going on dates but still not calling it dating" women out there, don't fret. There's a way to celebrate that is way less nauseating: Galentine's Day! For those who do not know the origin of Galentine's Day, it was coined by leading lady Leslie Knope on "Parks and Recreation," and she explained that it is a day for "women celebrating women."

Romantic relationships are great or whatever, but let's continue her Galentine's Day movement by celebrating the relationships she is talking about. The ones who do not come with candies and flowers, but the ones with the girls that keep you sane.

So grab your gals and enjoy a night on the town as you celebrate the friendships that have outlasted and gotten you through the psycho ex-boyfriends (or -girlfriends), poor wardrobe choices, horrible jobs, bad jokes, questionable dance moves and moments of utter embarrassment. The ones who have been there through the ugly and the sad and still would have a #WCW Instagram post dedicated to you and to your accomplishments.

Here are a couple ideas for you and your babes:

Top Golf

With dreamy golf pros still on the brain from last week's Open, keep the theme going by sippin' and swingin' your day away at Top Golf. With a fabulous assortment of shareable cuisine selections, yummy cocktails, and a little friendly competition, Topgolf is the perfect Galentine's Day destination to share laughs and make memories.

Karaoke At Grapevine in Scottsdale

Remember all the times you guys practiced duets on road trips, or choreographed dances to songs from your favorite movies? Well, it is your time to put your skills to the test. Grapevine is a restaurant/bar in Old Town Scottsdale that provides the opportunity to unleash your inner musician every night. Enjoy modestly priced Mediterranean-inspired food and beverages as everyone takes a turn with the mic. So whip out those moves with the confidence of having your girlfriends by your side and have a blast singing all your favorite tunes.

Galentine's Day Celebrations

Written by Lauren Grifol

Wednesday, 07 February 2018 09:34 - Last Updated Wednesday, 07 February 2018 10:06

here

Sleepover at the Biltmore

Splurge a little this Galentine's Day and book a staycation with you and your besties as you treat yourselves to the luxurious amenities of a resort while also enjoying the playful innocence of a good old-fashioned sleepover. And if you are going to splurge, you might as well do it right at the five-star, world-renowned Arizona Biltmore, A Waldorf Astoria Resort, right in the middle of Phoenix. With the delicious menus of the restaurants on site, a beautiful pool area and a state-of-the-art spa, you and your friends won't ever want to leave. Another perk this hotel offers is that they are beginning their Valentine's Day specials early, so use that to your advantage and book a cabana by the pool for a fraction of the price!

Arizona Party Bike Scottsdale

All aboard the Arizona Party Bike! Gather a group of your closest friends and prepare for an experience unlike any other. Enjoy the beautiful weather and gorgeous scenery as you and your ladies pedal yourselves from bar to bar. With a premium sound system, LED party lights, and the opportunity to bring wine aboard, you might end up tempted to just stay on the bike.

Tacos and Tequila Tuesday at The Vig

With multiple locations around the Valley, The Vig is the perfect dining option for you and your pals this Galentine's Day. Take in the contemporary, yet rustic ambiance as you enjoy $3 tacos and 30 percent off all tequila based beverages. Play games, listen to good music and relish in the company you are surrounded by at The Vig and watch as you make this your new go-to dinner spot.

Galentine's Day Celebrations

Written by Lauren Grifol

Wednesday, 07 February 2018 09:34 - Last Updated Wednesday, 07 February 2018 10:06

Paint Nite

Paint Nite Phoenix is the new to-do in the Valley. With its continuous movement from venue to venue, it makes it really convenient to attend an event closer to your home. The passionate class leaders are welcoming, patient and kind. They show up with the purpose of having fun and making the experience as memorable as possible. So grab your friends and channel the artist within, as you sip your wine. By the time the class is over, you will notice yourself leave feeling good, silly, proud, empowered, nostalgic, Zen, connected and happy... the emotions Paint Nite wants to and is known for instilling in their guests.

Su Vino Winery

Grab your gals and head to Su Vino Winery on Feb. 13 to toast to friendship. With many deals and combos to choose from, guests are offered suggestions on wine and complementing cuisine based on their tastes. Known as a must-do for Scottsdale tourists, treat yourselves to a tipsy Tuesday evening making fun memories you won't forget!