Kathy Shayna Shocket has the inside scoop on celebrities and people with passion.

More than another superstar who snaps pics of his famous life, Mick Fleetwood's photography of lush landscapes rocks with a gifted passion. Those of us who are captivated by nature appreciate Mick's artistic eye. His photographs are so unique- they are poetic. "As music has thus far defined my career - this collection defines my thoughts through my art," says the famous drummer with the sexy British accent.

Yes, the co-founder of Fleetwood Mac (pictured above in his home studio) is stepping out from behind the drums on his newest journey; Reflections. It's his exhibition of photographs he's taken over the years. His collection is being showcased in several galleries across the country, including a two day presentation at Scottsdale's DeRubeis Fine Art of Metal. That's where VIP guests of Mick's work and those who purchased one of his photographs, mingled for a private gathering, on the evening before Fleetwood Mac took the stage for another electrifying concert in Phoenix.

The Mick Fleetwood Collection is a body of over thirty works, both original photographs as well as hand-enhanced original photographs that are startling in their complexity and in their conception. Mick talks about why he calls it Reflections. "The fine art photographs contained in this exhibition encompass "Reflections" – in many senses of the word; literally – as in reflections in water, but also figuratively. They encompass reflections on travel, life's journey and my sense of self- evaluation as well as the reflection of where we've come to and where we might be going."

Recommended: Mick's exhibit will be at Dallas' Samuel Lynne Galleries through Dec 14, and Atlanta's Ann Jackson Gallery Dec 12- 17. (Check for dates of Mick's personal appearances.)
