

Pet-Friendly Arizona Hotels

Written by Written by Cassandra Weinman

Wednesday, 23 June 2010 01:00 - Last Updated Thursday, 17 June 2010 16:05

If you're looking for somewhere to kick up your paws this summer, these pet-friendly Valley resorts may be perfect for you and your four-legged friend.

FireSky Resort and Spa

Nestled in the heart of Scottsdale, FireSky Resort and Spa has become a hot spot for travelers looking to capitalize on some of Arizona's best restaurants, bars and shopping. In addition to the hotel's exquisite amenities, dog and cat owners will be thrilled with the unrivaled pet hospitality they receive at FireSky. The experience begins with a gourmet arrival treat, a bowl of "Bosco's Brew" (a pet-friendly beer), a chew toy and a leash. Owners wanting to spend a night out on the town needn't worry because both walking and sitting services are available for pets. www.fireskyresort.com.

Hotel Valley Ho

The Hotel Valley Ho is known for its mélange of vintage and contemporary, excess and simplicity, and fun and relaxation. Both two- and four-legged companions will find that the Valley Ho offers services that will surprise and delight even the most pampered pet. Guests and their furry friends are greeted with complimentary treats, a blanket, a tennis ball and a leash. For the ultimate indulgence, in-room petmassages are available for scheduling. www.hotelvalleyho.com.

InterContinental Montelucia Resort & Spa

A stay at the InterContinental Montelucia Resort & Spa will have both owners and pets rolling over and begging for more. Each pet (dogs must be 40 pounds or under) is given a gift bag upon arrival that includes a Montelucia water bottle, one doggy waste bag and holder and a letter providing information of pet-friendly attractions near the hotel. In-room amenities include a pet bed, two dog bowls and a personalized pet certificate. A monthly "Yappy Hour," a dog-friendly happy hour, is held the last Thursday of every month at Crave Café so owners and pets can enjoy quality time with a twist. www.icmonelucia.com.

Four Seasons Resort Scottsdale at Troon North

The Four Seasons Resort Scottsdale is a hotel with a history of glamour and grandeur. Never a hotel to be outdone, the Four Seasons has added pet care to its extensive list of accommodations. Both cats and dogs under 25 pounds are permitted, free of charge and can expect to be treated like royalty. Each pet receives either a special "meow" or "bow wow" welcome amenity that satisfies every possible pet need. www.fourseasons.com/Scottsdale.