Autism and Asperger's Conference to be held in Phoenix.

On September 13-14, 2012, the Phoenix Convention Center will host the "Back to School & More" Autism and Asperger's Conference. This two-day event is geared towards parents, teachers, SLPs, professionals and individuals on the Spectrum.

James Adams, founder of Autism Conferences of America, states, "We are proud to present what we believe to be the most comprehensive autism conference series in Arizona. In addition to the keynote speakers, we have over 20 local and national speakers with diverse backgrounds on timely topics and practical strategies."
