EXTRA EXTRA!

Believe it or not, Optima is in talks to open yet another condo development near Scottsdale on Camelback. Where the Orchid Tree apartments currently sit on the southeast corner of 68th street and Camelback, the new Sonoran Village will be built.

The new development is said to include 493 residential units and 40,000 sq.-ft. of commercial, retail and amenity room, with two open courtyards and five total buildings (four at seven stories tall, and one at five stories tall).

Construction will begin this July and take three years to complete, with buildings ready for residents as early as 2013.
