

Flashing Billboard in Phoenix Neighborhood Causing Controversy

Written by Arizona Foothills Magazine

Monday, 28 March 2011 15:39 -

EXTRA EXTRA!

Last week in Phoenix, a national billboard company was granted permission to erect a flashing, illuminated billboard on 44th Street and Indian School Road. For the first time in the history of the city, an illuminated billboard will be erected in an established Phoenix neighborhood.

What do you think? Do we embrace the change, or protect our neighborhoods?