

One of the Best Restaurateur in the world is back in Scottsdale!

Written by Sarah Love

Thursday, 08 September 2011 16:42 - Last Updated Friday, 17 February 2012 13:43

EXTRA EXTRA!

Dennis Mastro the founder of the original Mastro's group is getting back in the steak business. Dennis Mastro sold his group which included Ocean Club, Mastro's Steakhouse and Mastro's City Hall back in 2007. His non-compete has expired and he's back at it again. The 1st new location is in Scottsdale Quarter called Dominick's Steakhouse which will focus on prime-grade beef, as well as on classic Italian dishes designed for sharing. This is certain to be the place for the Valley's most beautiful and powerful people to be seen. Opens in October.