

Stargaze and Sip Hot Cocoa

Written by Sarah Love

Thursday, 23 February 2012 14:18 - Last Updated Thursday, 23 February 2012 16:45

EXTRA EXTRA!

One of the great things about Arizona is that we can enjoy beautiful star-filled skies from easily accessible locations. One of those locations is the Sanctuary on Camelback Mountain in Scottsdale.

Sanctuary is upping the ante by returning to the basics, offering a great new vacation package entitled "S'mores and Stargazing."

The package, starting at $419 for two, includes a one-night stay in a mountain casita, a private session with an astronomer for moon and stargazing, all while enjoying delectables such as s'mores and hot cocoa. It also includes breakfast at the in-house restaurant, Elements, featuring food from Iron Chef America winner Chef Beau MacMillan.

The windows of opportunity are closing! Here are some times where purchasing the package would have the added bonus of seeing a planet.

Jupiter - now through March

Venus - February through April

Mars - March through July

Saturn - April through July