

New Hotel Development to Begin in Scottsdale

Written by Kirstina Bolton

Tuesday, 23 October 2012 10:35 -

EXTRA! EXTRA!

With our Aspen and Southern California friends reaping the beautiful fall weather at this time, it's nice to know they're giving us a piece of their luxury with a new hotel development right here in Scottsdale.

Award-winning resort operator, Crown Community Development, who own the renowned Little Nell Resort & Spa in Aspen and the award-winning Ojai Valley Inn & Spa in Southern California, are currently in the process of receiving permission from the City of Scottsdale to develop a 100-room resort and spa of similar quality to those two projects right along the spectacular McDowell Mountains.

The resort will be nestled into the site, with related rooms, villas, casita and homes adjoining.